The Antaeus is the embodiment of advanced design, function and fashion. The Antaeus transcends the highest standards of mountain bike performance, with state-of-the-art specifications which include an oversize 7005 series alloy frame and an oversize alloy stem, giving exceptional torsional rigidity with minimum weight. Combined with the ultra-light handlebars, fork and wheel assemblies, the Antaeus has superb poise and balance for that rare quality of handling which inspires total confidence.

The Antaeus is positively bristling with sophisticated componentry. The latest Shimano Deore XT groupset allows smooth, rhythmical power across the most punishing terrain. Top class features include the Mavic rims, titanium Flite saddle and a stunning polished finish. Whatever your limits you can attain them on the Claud Butler Antaeus, invest in excellence.
