all terra

Meticulous Attention to Detail, Unmatched Craftsmanship, and Dedication to the Art of Bicycle Construction.

To realize a complete series of bikes, from the full blown race machines to the rider friendly cross bikes, we combined the forces of our midnight oil burning R&D department with our powerhouse international Team GT. • From suspension systems to tubing, GT product gets put through the paces by Team GT before it ever sees the showroom floor. This method of testing, while at times may seem extreme, guarantees that every GT bike and accessory exceeds the demanding standards of today's product wise consumer. When you're looking for a bike that's ready to meet the challenge, look to GT. GT All-Terra, Innovation that works, and wins.

GROOVE TUBE - GT's exclusive Groove Tube adds to the advantages of top tube cable routing by putting all cables up and out of the way for cleaner, safer top tube cable routing. This unique process represents a major step forward in the art of tube forming technology.

GT Triple Triangle Design™ Frame

The GT Triple Triangle Design frame takes frame building technology a step ahead of the competition. By incorporating three triangles instead of two, the Triple Triangle Design™ frame adds strength and stiffness for increased climbing performance and quicker acceleration.

GT Flip Flop Stem and "Aheadset" System

Designed to work with the 'Aheadset' system, the lightweight GT Flip Flop stem provides the rider with a choice of two riding positions. Constructed using thin wall, heat treated chromoly or heat treated aluminum, the Flip Flop stem/"Aheadset' system combination gives the rider a true steering advantage.

Replaceable Alloy Derailleur Hanger

The GT replaceable alloy derailleur hanger is engineered to bend before any permanent damage is done to the derailleur. The hanger's outward offset seat stay tabs add chain and freewheel clearance.

Race Tested and Proven.

The same bike raced on the World Cup circuit by Team GT, the Xizang LE is handbuilt in the USA from 3/2.5 titanium. 3/2.5 titanium utilizes 3 parts aluminum and 2.5 parts titanium resulting in a titanium blend that is exceptionally lightweight and extremely strong. Powering the Xizang LE and Team GT to the front is Shimano's 24-speed XTR component groupo. Mavic M230 32H rims, Shimano M737 SPD clipless pedals and Panaracer Hardcore Smoke/Dart Kevlar bead tires guarantee you'll make a good showing at any race venue. A proven winner on the world's toughest race circuit, the Xizang LE takes off-road performance to the highest plane.

BALL BURNISHING
The Shine of Perfection.

Ball burnishing is the finish of choice for GT's alloy line of mountain bikes.

A mild form of "shot peening", ball burnishing actually adds strength while achieving an unparalleled finish. This unique finish is achieved by tumbling the frame in a drum with thousands of small ball bearings. This process compresses the base material, increasing its fatigue strength, and creating a shine that maintains its brilliance 300% longer than traditional hand polishing.

Zaskar LE is also available with SPIN Composite Wheels.

The Perfect Bike for Those Who Live Beyond the Limits.

Built at GT USA, the Zaskar LE features 6061-T6 double-butted heat treated aluminum that's ball burnished for strength and a finish surpassed by none. Burly head tube gussets, monstrous welds, and a replaceable alloy derailleur hanger guarantee that the Zaskar LE can survive the likes of anyone, including Team GT extremist Hans Rey.

WHAT MAKES

GT's Rocker Tuned Suspension™ system gives you all the the benefits of a rigid frame bicycle, with the added performance of full suspension. What makes it tick? A small CNC machined aluminum rocker. Chassis stiffness must be a priority to properly constrain wheel movement, and the RTS has provided abundant stiffness with this application of racecar technology. The suspension configuration of the Rocker Tuned Suspension™ system offers three distinct advantages: Anti-squat, Anti-dive, and full adjustability.

The Anti-squat geometry allows the chain force to counteract the rearward weight transfer due to forward acceleration. It ensures the suspension stays topped out during normal riding, thus preventing energy loss, with none of the bobbing. So when you're sprinting for the finish or climbing a technical section, you have optimum power transfer to the rear wheel.

During braking, weight transfer tries to compress the front, as well as extending the rear suspension. By incorporating Anti-dive geometry, the rear braking forces actually compress the rear suspension, leveling out the bike. In addition, the lowered center of gravity reduces the weight transfer to the front, improving rear braking. The Brake Rocker further improves the rear brakes, employing a special cam-like function.

With the idea that no rider is created equal, the RTS system is designed to have complete adjustability. The RTS can easily be tuned to fit each riders individual riding style, weight, and handling preferences. In addition, the RTS system's USA made Noleen "Piggyback" oil dampened coil-over shock has adjustable compression damping and spring preload. This allows you to fine tune the shock action for all types of terrain.

The Rocker Tuned Suspension™ system. The worse it gets, the better it works.

D SUSPENSION

There is No Competition.

To compete at the World Cup level takes perfection. Perfect training, mental preparation, and equipment. The 1994 Team RTS features the absolute finest materials, technology and componentry available. 6061-T6 heat treated aluminum front and rear triangles, Noleen Piggyback adjustable oil dampened coil over shock, and RockShox Mag21 long travel SL/Ti suspension fork, all made right here in the USA. Hammerin' up or blazing down, the advantage of the Team RTS is surpassed by none.
