

John Tomac
World Champion.

Guess What Happened When Raleigh Asked John Tomac To Design The Ultimate Bike?

What happened goes something like this: Tomes enters the aerospace laboratories at the Kent factory and basically gets his run of the place. The end result?

A true race-ready machine capable of winning the World Championships with time to spare, and a little help from John. But, honestly, the John Tomac signature model bike is now available through Authorized Raleigh Dealers and it's just like the bike used by John to annihilate the competition world-wide all year long.

If you've got the guts, and $6,495.00, we've got the bike. Take a test ride today.
